

A letter to Ewan MacPherson of Cluny from Prince Charles Edward Stuart, announcing the intention of setting up the Royal Standard at Glenfinnan, dated 6th August 1745.

It reads: ' Being Fully perswaded of your Loyalty and zeal of the Kings service I think fit to inform you that I am come unto this country to assert his right, at the head of such of his faithfull subjects as will engage in his quarrel. I intend therefor to set up the Royale Standard at Glenfinnen on munday the 19th instant. Your appearance on that occasion woud be very usfull: but if not practicable, I expect you to joyn me as soon as possible and you shall always find me ready to give you marks of my friendship. Charles P.R.'

From the West Highland Museum Collection (L/D142/4/8)