

P819: Feu Charter, the British Fisheries Society in favour of the Congregation in Pulteneytown at present in connexion with the United Associate

RECORDS' IDENTITY STATEMENT

Reference number: P819

Alternative reference number:

Title: Feu Charter, the British Fisheries Society in favour of the Congregation in Pulteneytown at present in connexion with the United Associate

Dates of creation: 16 Apr 1845

Level of description: Fonds

Extent: 2 documents

Format: Parchment

RECORDS' CONTEXT

Name of creators: British Fisheries Society

Administrative history: This church was built in 1879 for the United Presbyterian congregation. They joined the United Free Church in 1900, becoming Wick West Church. It later became Church of Scotland and then joined with Wick Central Church. In 1955 the church closed, was sold and then demolished. Dunnetts Garage was later built on the site. It was known as the "Little Cathedral".

Custodial history:

RECORDS' CONTENT

Description:

Appraisal:

Accruals:

RECORDS' CONDITION OF ACCESS AND USE

Access: Open

Closed until: -

Access conditions: Available within the Archive searchroom

Copying:

Copying permitted within standard
Copyright Act parameters

Finding aids:

Available in Archive searchroom

ALLIED MATERIALS

Related material:

Publication:

Notes:

Date of catalogue: 22 Aug 2014

Ref.	Description	Dates
P819/1	Feu Charter, the British Fisheries Society in favour of Andrew Auld, fishcurer in Wick and others, trustees of the Congregation in Pulteneytown at present in connexion with the United Associate, of a piece of ground in Pulteneytown in the parish of Wick presently occupied by the United Associate Congregation on which they have erected a chapel and manse, bounded on the west by the road from Wick to Dunbeath, on the north by Dempster Street, on the south by Moray Street [1 parchment document]	16 Apr 1845
P819/2	Colour printout of photograph of Wick West Church [1 sheet, original in possession of Harry Gray, may not be reproduced]	c.1940