MECCA OF KINGS AND COMMONS.

EVEN in the days when short journeys meant a great deal of discomfort, JOHN O'GROATS was the Mecca of enthusiastic travellers in Scotland. Kings, and innumerable people of noble birth, have been here, as well as hundreds who have enjoyed the nobility of achievement—world-famous men in art and industry. They came in company with thousands of others, eager to visit the Farthest North, and with the knowledge that a warm welcome awaited them at the end of the road. Nowadays, with perfect road surfaces enticing people to travel farther and farther afield, JOHN O'GROATS is becoming even more popular, not only as a point of call but as a holiday centre. If you desire an interesting holiday in pleasant surroundings, come to JOHN O'GROATS and spend your vacation with the comfort that only modern facilities can give at the
