Administrative history: Joan Manson was the driving force behind the transformation of Wick Recreational Swimming Club into Wick Amateur Swimming Club. The idea of changing the club status came to Joan after presenting medals at a successful club swimming gala. Having always had a keen interest in swimming Joan undertook to train as a swimming coach upon her retiral from the NHS in 1983 as a midwife. Having obtained her level 2 teaching certificate Joan started coaching the club members in the four competitive strokes of front crawl, back crawl, butterfly and breaststroke

Joan also arranged training for the officials of the Club and other activities which ensured that the Club continued to build on its successes. Joan finally retired from teaching swimming in 2020.
