

The Dragon Summoner

In a little wooden cottage on the edge of a dark and gloomy forest, Tom had been crying for the last few days. His father had died in a car crash and the only thing Tom had to remember him by was the necklace he had given him the day before he passed away. Tom held the necklace tight then a single tear drop landed on the necklace.

Suddenly the necklace started to glow then a massive portal appeared and a blue shiny scaled dragon flew out of the portal. It spoke in a loud croaky voice. "He is coming, run as fast as you can!"

Then something Tom would have never expected happened. A huge black and red fiery dragon came through the portal. The two dragons started to fight and it was a mess of slashing claws and sharp fangs.

"Scar, stop this!" said the good dragon.

"Why do you need to stop everything I do, Sky?" said Scar, then after a mess of blood and claws, Scar finally retreated into the portal.

"Do not tell anyone about this!" said Sky to Tom.

"Ok," Tom said.

"Good, because if you do, magical things will happen to you." Then the dragon flew into the portal.

The next few days flew past like a dragon, then it happened. It was a Friday evening and Tom had just had dinner. Tom's mum asked if she could have a look at the necklace. Tom said no but then his mum said, "Give me the necklace!"

"No," Tom said.

"Give it to me," shouted mum.

"No, and why?" Said Tom.

“Because it was your dad’s and I deserve to look at it,” she said, then she took it from Tom.

Tom said “No! The necklace is a portal to the dragon world!”

Suddenly Tom remembered what Sky had said to him that day. Immediately, the portal reappeared but this time it was black as the blackest black with red swirls in it. Then two huge red eyes appeared and a dark and grim voice said, “Sky told you not to tell anyone about the fight I had with him! Talking about the fight, where is Sky?” It was Scar the evil dragon!

Suddenly there was a flourish of light and a dash of blue - it was Sky here to save Tom! But then Sky said in a light voice “Why did you tell her?”

“I do not know,” said Tom, then Sky started to attack Scar. It was just like last time - blood spilled everywhere even on Tom. Then with the last push, Sky pushed Scar into the portal to be never seen again. Sky looked relieved. He turned his head to look at Tom.

“Tom why? Why did you tell her about us dragons? We are supposed to be secret from humans. No-one is supposed to know about us,” Sky said. “I’m so sorry, Tom. I should never have said that. I forgive you. It’s not your fault anyway, your mum made you say it.”
