

THE MAIN ATTRACTION

September 2nd, 2006, it was the first time he had ever been away from home before and he was excited, since where he is going is quite far away.. Felix had found a job opportunity to make a brand new tv show, it had to be cartoon themed, and silly, he went to the address, a giant building known as 'space toons inc' he went into reception and explained why he was there "hello ma'am, I am here to pitch a brand new show for the network" he explained in a calm voice, the receptionist nodded and lead him to a waiting room, he began looking through his concept art, a brown weasel in a hoodie, a black and white dog with jeans and a bowtie, and a bug thing mixed with a cute spider and butterfly, two heads on one body the left one grinning evilly, and the other sad, and finally, a male ragdoll with his right covered in his red string hair, a t shirt and shorts, he wore stripey socks and gloves, one sock taller than the other, he had 3 button eyes where his right eye should be, and finally, a blue cap with a bell dangling at the end, 'he looks great' Felix said to himself, the show was gonna be 3D animated, like toy story or toy story 2 as well, 'mr. felix anderson?' a man in a white shirt and tie called, he wore glasses and had black slick hair, black trousers, and black shoes, 'right here' Felix said, he walked into the office where the man lead him, they both sat down, 'tell me about this cartoon idea, mr anderson' he said in a deep voice, Felix handed him the concept art, the weasel named JACK, Dobby the dog, Charlie the bug hybrid, and happy and sad, he said 'amazing, the show will be 3D animated' Felix nodded, the man asked about the story 'so what is the plot line?' 'the plot? Well, its about cartoon characters in a apocalyptic world, woman have became bugs and creatures, and men have became animals and toys' the man replied with 'interesting plot line, well I assure you we LOVE this show, and it has a 100 percent chance of being aired' he exclaimed with a smile, or some would say, an evil smirk, one month after the company sent Felix the models, they were terrifying, due to animation quality at the time, and the artstyle, this was sure to scare kids, so the show was cancelled, after, Felix stormed over and asked why he made them creepy, the man said 'we thought it could bring a better audience, but we can help..' he led Felix to a secret room...and opened a door, to a cartoonish room, poorly made, but there was real cartoons, OF THE CHARACTERS HE MADE? 'WHAT IS THIS??' Felix screamed, he got shoved in....he was now, a cartoon, the main attraction!!!!!!

The end.
